

International Relations Online 2012

Sign Up – Move Up: Apply Now!

Are you looking for an M.A. online program that provides higher education for the real world, which is diverse, fresh, individual and international? A program that doesn't simply kick-start your career but promotes understanding, flexible learning and professional opportunities? A program that keeps you connected after you've finished your degree through a globally active Alumni Network? A program that starts in October 2012?

Become part of our global network – we welcome your application! Even though the official deadline passed already, we accept applications for our waiting list. And chances are high that we might still be able to offer you a place.

Benefits:

- Pursue targeted education in International Relations or East European Studies
- Profit from a web-based learning environment
- Enjoy English-language coursework
- Be guided and supervised by dedicated scholars from around the world
- Stay on the job while working towards your degree
- Receive your degree from a “University of Excellence” in Germany
- Network with international faculty, fellow students and alumni